FITNESS BOULIVARD

More Than a Compound

Fitness Boulevard is not just a destination. It's the launch point of a reborn brand. In fact, today, this idea is needed for the family to enjoy both new Fitness Time and out spaces.

At the heart of this achievement is ARCHECHO's commitment to precision, purpose, and transformative execution.

IRQA FT

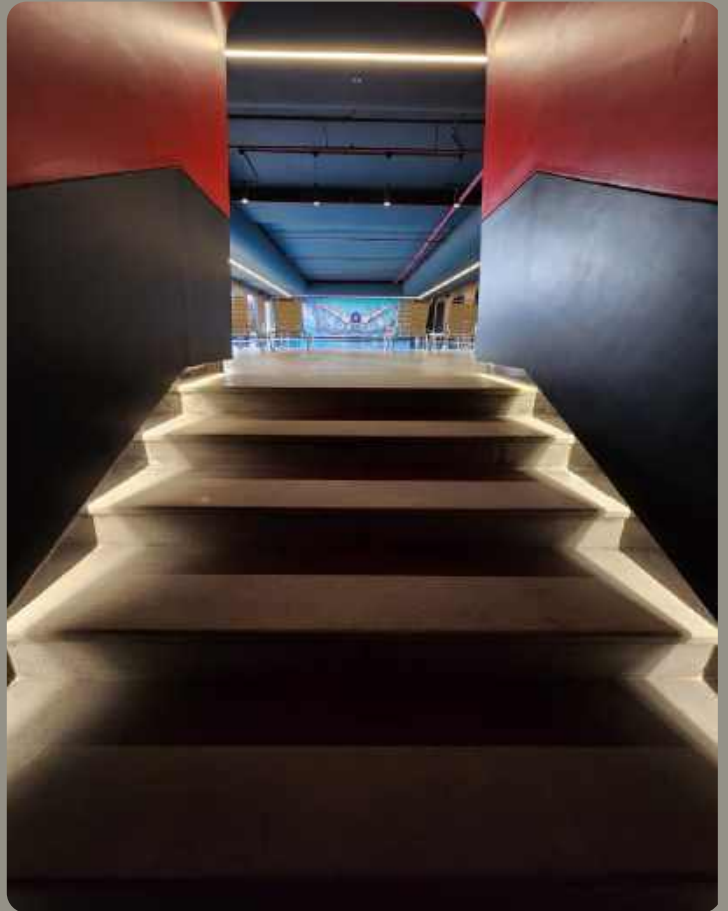

A Bold Gym Interior Design Identity:

Fitness Time's new brand identity didn't start with a logo, but with a bold gym interior design transformation at Irqah Club in Riyadh. This project redefined an outdated space into a flagship destination that represents the brand's future.

ARCHECHO took on one of Fitness Time's most critical missions. The team was tasked with designing, reimagining, and rebuilding a club that would serve as the benchmark for the brand's new identity — both visually and functionally.

This mission required not only creativity but also a deep understanding of gym interior design principles to deliver a space that reflects the evolving identity of the brand.

LABANFT-LD

The challenge was significant: the existing structure was outdated and required complete stripping of all internal and external finishes. ARCHECHO carried out a full architectural and interior overhaul, turning the neglected space into a sleek, high-performance gym facility designed to meet the specific needs of female users.

ARCHECHO proudly delivered a full-scope transformation of an aging building into a modern, fully equipped women's fitness club under the Fitness Time brand in the Laban district of Riyadh. This fast-track project was completed within just five months, a remarkable timeline considering the extensive nature of the renovation.

With expert project coordination and efficient execution, the team delivered outstanding results under tight deadlines — blending durability, aesthetics, and brand standards into a unified and functional space. This project highlights ARCHECHO's ability to revitalize older structures into high-value, purpose-driven environments through thoughtful design and disciplined execution.

Club 200 — a landmark for Fitness Time — is more than just a number; it's a statement of scale, quality, and ambition. ARCHECHO had the honor of designing and executing this flagship women's club in Riyadh's Al Sahafa district, delivering a complete transformation of an aging structure into a vibrant, multi-functional fitness destination

Just like in our previous successful projects, the building was completely stripped inside and out, then reimagined with high-end interior finishes, updated facades, and purpose-built zones. But this club took it a step further.

Inside, the facility features boutique retail spaces, a specialized physical therapy and body contouring center under the ABLE brand, and a range of athletic zones tailored for women. One of the most striking features is the multi-use rooftop sports court, engineered with professional-grade surfacing and lighting — a unique touch that expands functionality without expanding footprint.
